How Using Social Media Affects Teenagers

While the internet and social media can be extremely useful tools for young adults/teens and their parents, these “apps,” instant messaging, chat rooms, texts, emails, and social networking sites can also cause unexpected anxiety and danger for children and their parents. With technology changing daily, parents and teens do not have the right knowledge, and schools and communities are not always able to have the necessary conversations to assist families to make informed decisions about internet and social media safety.

This workshop will provide fundamental information and practices for parents and students about how to protect themselves and their children from internet social media dangers and drama.
